To: The School Head Teacher or Head of Information Technology
Oxfordshire Schools Web Competition 2007

Are your students already building web pages as part of the curriculum or in a computer club?

Why not enter them in our competition?

Your pupils could win some great prizes for themselves and the school

If you are thinking about entering, please let us know by email to oxon.webcomp@bcs.org.uk or use the form at www.oxon.bcs.org/webcomp/signup

We will send you an information pack, a poster and a free Sophos book, "a to z of computer security threats"

Prizes for the schools include:

- First prize: £850 to spend with RM
- Second prize: £300 of RM vouchers
- The Silver Challenge Cup
- Engraved silver shields

Prizes for the students:

- MP3 players, digital cameras and other high tech devices
- A wide selection of games, hobby and educational software
- Software for websites and images from Microsoft
- Lots more individual prizes

And last but not least:

An invitation to the grand prize giving at Cranfield University, Shrivenham on 20 June 2007.

We like to reward as many students as we can and we are adding to the list of prizes as the signups come in. Watch the competition web site for more details as they are finalised.

Entries to be submitted by 30 April 2007.
